Diwali Circular

Diwali is a festival of lights. It is one of the major festivals celebrated in India. The festival signifies the victory of light over darkness. This also means the triumph of good over evil and knowledge over ignorance. It is the most favourite festival of everyone.

It's that time of the year again - the festive season has arrived and it's time for celebration, family bonding, mouthwatering sweets, gifts, house organizing and decoration... the list is endless! Budgeting for Diwali is not something one looks at. And why not, its festival time and this is why festivals are for. At the same time, keeping track of our expenditure and involving children in budget planning is important.

Diwali Vacation Activity –

Students to list down all the Diwali needs from clothes, decor items, crackers, sweets, gifts, etc. and prepare a Diwali Budget along with their parents and be actively involved with them for Diwali expenses.

Note – It is just a 'Family Activity'. No submission is required.

Objective of the Activity –

- Making a budget is the first and foremost step to managing your expenses during the festive season. While it is pretty normal to spend more money than usual during the festive months, sticking to a budget helps avoid frivolous spending during such times. When you set a budget, you have control over your expenditures and can plan your purchases accordingly.

- Students must learn the basics of budgeting at an early age. Some students are great at saving while some students go a little extra or over budget.
- We believe innovation sees the best outlet in students. So to enrich and enhance fiscal planning and decision-making, we have planned The Budget Activity for our students.

Wishing you all a very Happy and a Safe Diwali!!
